COVID and Croatia Travel

As of April 16, 2021 US citizens can visit Croatia. Entry for tourism is permitted only with documentary evidence of an accommodation paid in advance and in full, prior to arrival at the border (the accommodation reservation alone is not sufficient for entry).

Requirements: A certificate of vaccination (any vaccine) for persons whose final dose of the COVID-19 vaccine is more than 14 days prior to crossing the border. Alternative: negative viral PCR or rapid antigen test not older than 48 hours (from the time of taking the test to arriving at the border crossing point). If a rapid antigen test and staying longer than 10 days must repeat the test within ten days of the original test. You can pay for a test at border, but have to quarantine until you have the results (at your own expense).

Wearing protective masks is mandatory in all closed spaces throughout the country. Masks are also mandatory in open spaces where a physical distance of at least 1.5 meters cannot be maintained. Other restrictive measures are currently in effect throughout Croatia. These may be revised at any time.

Croatia 2021 Itinerary

Currency – Though part of the EU, Croatia has not yet adopted the Euro. The Croatian currency is Kuna (short: Kn). The exchange rate is at about 7,5 Kn per 1 €, 6,3 Kn per $1. The Euro is also a good currency to have; they are widely used when paying for accommodation, meals, pay-tolls, and gasoline. Change is usually in Kuna, and the exchange rate can be less favorable than at the exchange offices.

Credit Cards – Although credit cards are widely used in Croatia, they aren't accepted everywhere. Notice an abundance of ATM machines wherever you go. Smaller businesses, restaurants and bars often prefer cash. If you see a credit card sticker at the door or near the cashier, ok. But don't assume if no sticker.

Tipping – Not necessary but appreciated. Only leave if happy with the service. Croatians typically simply round up the bill in bars/restaurants. Or you can do ~10%; more is excessive.

Accommodations - Booking.com is most popular website for browsing and booking hotels in Croatia. Sometimes hotels offer special deals available only through their website. Apartment and villa rentals, just like hotels, need to be licensed and get an official star rating. The most popular websites for apartment rentals in Croatia are Booking.com, HomeAway (VRBO), and Airbnb

Rental Cars – needed for many of the sites, but not in the cities (very walkable). Use rentalcars.com as a broker to find good deals. If you rent 1-way, expect as much as 120 € per rental. The same goes for picking up or dropping off the car out of office hours (~40 €). Dropping car in another country (e.g. Bosnia) is expensive also. You can try to negotiate with a car rental company to waive these fees.

Driving - Tolls apply on all multi-lane motorways named with the letter A (always green signs), as well as on some tunnels (eg. Ucka tunnel between Rijeka & Istria), etc. A one-way fee from Zagreb to Split (approx. 400 km) costs approx. 200 Kn (27 € / $30 $). Traffic conditions may be found here.

You can also travel on toll-free state roads. These roads are also in good condition, but a single carriageway road, with a single lane for each direction. These National roads are marked with a letter D, and the road signs are mostly in yellow. D8 (ex. E65) is the most popular national road, connecting Rijeka in the northwest with Dubrovnik; this is the most scenic road.

Lunch – for locals can be more important than dinner. Neighborhood restaurants serving marenda, galeb or uzina (depends on the region). It means a warm, cooked cheap meal, eaten with a spoon or fork, from fresh local food, usually served between 11am and 2pm. It costs anywhere between 20 and 40 Kn (2.7€-5.5€). For example, in Dalmatia traditional marenda is a cod stew, meat balls in tomato sauce, boiled veal with potatoes, or a veal risotto. In Zagreb, galeb is tripe, goulash, or brat sausages with sauerkraut.

Local wines – many small, family-run wineries have set high standards with made of local grape varieties, like Malvazija, a dry white from Istria, or Plavac Mali, a red from southern Dalmatia.

Unesco World Heritage Sites – there are 10 in Croatia. These sites include The Euphrasian Basilica in Porec, St. James Cathedral in Sibenik, the old town of Trogir, Diocletian Palace in Split, Dubrovnik old town, Stari grad planes on the island of Hvar, Plitvice Lakes, the Venetian Works of Defence from the 16th and 17th centuries in Zadar and Sibenik, Stećci Medieval Tombstone Graveyards in Cista Provo and Konavle, and Ancient and Primeval Beech Forests in national parks Paklenica and Northern Velebit.

Best Hiking – Paklenica National Park | Odysseus's Cave | Peljesac Peninsula | Ucka Mtn

June 18: Day 00 – Depart USA

June 19: Day 01 – Arrive Zagreb late (4 nights)

June 20-22: Day 02-04 –Zagreb. Enjoy city, parks, and food scene.

Zagreb Highlights: Upper Town | Zagreb Cathedral | Lotrscak Tower | Stone Gate | The Museum of Mimara | Maksimir Park | Dolac Market | Illica Street

Zagreb is Croatia's underrated capital city, with sidewalk cafes, street festivals, boutique shops, colorful murals, local food markets, and verdant park. Interesting museums (the best feature Naive Art and Broken Relationships). Walking is one of the best things you can do in Zagreb.

The most central and famous farmer's market is Dolac; a prime tourist attraction.

Consider a jogging tour. Or run the parks or Sava Quay or Maksimir park on your own.

Watching Zagreb from Medvedgrad Castle, by walking up or take a taxi.

Jarun Small and Big Lakes. The Big Lake has more than 10 km of walking and cycling trails.

Day -----

Activity – Walking the City. Walking Tour? Else do on our own...

- Lower Town is a tapestry of 7 parks woven together into the shape of a horseshoe. Start in Zrinjevac and keep going until you've reached the end.
- Upper Town; dimly lit narrow streets and historic.
- Zagreb's Mirogoj cemetery is lush with vegetation and magnificent architecture.
- Climb Radićeva street to the mystical shrine to Virgin Mary – the Stone Gate

Lunch – make it an event by eating at one of the places below

Eating in Zagreb – Croatians treasure lunch more than dinner. With majority of people working on 9 to 5, lunch is no longer enjoyed with a family, but with colleagues. Many restaurants in Zagreb offer special daily lunch menus – often more interesting than a la carte dinner. Recommended:

- 2Marenda (Kuniščak 24, Zagreb): Although it's perhaps the best kept secret in Zagreb, Marenda is actually always full, and very popular among locals. Here you'll eat dishes that Dalmatian grandmas' used to prepare at home. A full meal with a drink you'll pay around 10€.
- Tip – top (Gundulićeva 18, Zagreb | +385 1 4830 349 | Sunday closed | Website): An integral part of Zagreb social life, restaurant Tip top is a place where everybody likes to check in. You'll find here a blue collar working class eating next to Croatian show-biz stars. Tip-top (ex. Blato) offers three daily dishes for 35 Kn to 55 Kn. Check their daily menu here. Tip top also has a regular a la carte menu, and (my personal favorite) a choice of tapas-style small bites (e.g. anchovies on bread for 5 Kn a bite)
- Rougemarin (Folnegovićeva 10, Zagreb | +385 1 6187 776 | Sunday closed | Website): Located off Zagreb touristy streets, Rougemarin is THE place to go for the best burgers in the town. This place is extremely popular among locals. They have a gorgeous outdoor terrace. Rougemarin organizes also a green market where you can buy fresh local produce.

- Lari i Penati (Petrinjska 42a, Zagreb | +385 1 4655 776 | Sunday closed | Website): Although it opened just few years ago, Lari i penati quickly became one of the locals' favorite lunch spots. A small street-side terrace is always busy during the lunch time, so make sure to book your table if you plan to eat here. Lari i penati offers a bistro-style dishes, portions are not large, and the prices are affordable (although not cheap).

It's the start of the Premuzic Trail, one of the most amazing walks in the country. Dense forests and highland pastures are hidden behind the jagged grey peaks of the mountain and hikers may even spot bears, wolves and lynx. There are spectacular views of the sea from the peaks of Alan and Zavizan, and the alpine Velebit Botanical Garden nearby is a great spot from which to start a walking trail.

Activities: https://www.getyourguide.com/s/?q=sibenik&partner_id=511BVPW

Krka NP is famous for its seven waterfalls. The longest is Skradinski buk (when people talk about the Krka waterfalls this is what they are usually thinking of) but the widest, and perhaps the most spectacular, is Roski Slap, made up of a series of branches and islets that meet to become a 23-metre-high cascade. Zadar Highlights: Church of St. Donatus | Cathedral | Kolovare Beach | Roman Forum | Sea Organ

Cosmopolitan and historic, energetic, and yet serene, Zadar is a city that lives and breathes on the coastline. The intriguing marble streets of Old Town lead to the lush hills of the hinterland. Modern art installations contrast the ancient ruins, and Bohemian cafes juxtapose the Romanesque churches. With millennia of history traced back to the Stone Age, Zadar features golden treasures and religious paintings but also offers a charming ambiance in which you can stroll by the water or dine on a mouthwatering traditional dish in an elegant restaurant.

Parking in Zadar: There are plenty parking lots in Zadar. However, the parking is extremely expensive in July and August. In the old town, parking costs 1.6 € per hour, with maximum parking time of 2 hours. Other parking lots charge 1.4 € per hour in July and August. There is also a public garage that costs only 0.4 € per hour and the first hour is free of charge. However, it will take you 15 minutes by walk to reach the old town from the garage.

Dubrovnik Highlights: Dubrovnik Cathedral | City Gates | Old Walls | Loggia Square | Fort Lovrijenac | Dubrovnik Stradun | Franciscan Monastery | Sponza Palace

Dubrovnik is known as the "Pearl of the Adriatic": a giant walled Old Town with a scenic wall walk, tons of crowds, great beaches, modest but engaging museums, a stunning mountaintop viewpoint, an epic past and difficult but inspiring recent history, and a well-earned reputation as Croatia's single best destination. Old Town's limestone streets and Baroque architecture that edge the Adriatic Sea. Ancient walls beneath the steep slopes of Mt. Srd. A luxurious cathedral, and a collection of regal palaces. The city feels like an artifact preserved in time, supported by enchanting panoramas, and strengthened by the cannons that continue to defend the city walls.

Split is the unofficial capital city and transit hub of the Dalmatian Coast, with a bustling urban vibe, people-filled seaside promenade, and lived-in warren of twisting lanes sprouting out of the massive Diocletian Roman palace. Bars, restaurants, and boutiques thrive within the antique walls.
